Yuan M.
Math, English, Test Prep
Brigham Young University

Yuan holds a degree in Mathematics Education and has been a tutor for over 10 years. In this time on the Varsity Tutors platform, Yuan has helped over 900 students in everything from elementary math to AP Calculus.

"I absolutely love teaching and I hope to become a math teacher! I have been a different tutor for seven years and I have loved every second!"

Interests: playing musical instruments, especially the accordion and piano

Karina R.
Math, Science, Bilingual
Juntae College

Karina has a Master's Degree and is fluent in English and Spanish. She has been tutoring since she was a junior in high school. She enjoys making lessons engaging using multilingual teaching strategies.

"My greatest joy is helping my students to deconstruct the subjects that are giving them issues. Everyone deserves the ability to try their best. I try to give that to my students at all times."

Interests: baking, gardening, reading (LEGO), and playing fantasy baseball

Chinedu U.
Math
University of Houston

A native of Nigeria, Chinedu earned a Ph.D in Chemical Engineering and has an incredibly strong background as a math tutor. His passion for teaching serves him well as a paid tutor and a volunteer, mentoring and tutoring refugee middle school students.

"My goal is to empower my students to achieve their academic potential."

Interests: climbing (two-step, rتاая, any type), cycling, and eating good food

Ingy E.
Math
University of Minnesota

A certified Level II Master Tutor through the College Reading and Learning Association, Ingy is known for her flexible tutoring style. She approaches each of her students differently based on their needs and enjoys helping them "connect the dots" to grasp difficult concepts.

"My goal is to show students a new way in college, confident, stable steps than before."

Interests: weightlifting, hiking, yoga, crocheting, and being outdoors

Yovonne L.
Math, English
Michigan State University

As a teaching assistant and tutor in college, Yovonne learned the main goal of tutoring: to teach, not to guide students through material they’ve already learned. She holds a Masters in Psychology and uses her experience to ensure each lesson is personalized and thoughtful.

"The end goal isn’t just knowing information, it’s how to think about problems is a way that they feel confident approaching future coursework."

Interests: reading, painting, drawing, andup

Wura A.
Special Education, ESL
CUNY, Macaulay College

Wura is a highly qualified and experienced tutor who fills in with assignments and conciliation. She holds a Master’s Degree and has extensive experience teaching online, including everything from reading comprehension to college-level math.

"I always hold students to high standards, have them make the necessary corrections to improve their work, and have celebrations to encourage them to feel proud of their personal effort."

Interests: knitting, sewing, and finding a quiet moment to reflect

Liliana Q.
Math, Social Studies, ESL
Northern Arizona University

Liliana holds a Bachelor’s Degree in Elementary Education and has five years of success in the classroom. She has helped students with special needs and ESL learners and specializes in applying the scaffolding strategy to her sessions.

"I tutor all the elementary level subjects, but I enjoy math, social studies, and Spanish the most. I like the simplicity of math, the stories and specificity in social studies, and the beauty of the Spanish language."

Interests: camping, triathlon, and spending time with family lots of nourishing

Karen T.
English
Smith College / UMass

Karen has a Ph.D in English and has been on the Varsity Tutors platform for eight years—tutoring over 300 students! She currently curricula and teaches at the University of Washington. As a tutor, she focuses on helping students find the confidence to build their skills.

"I believe that every student has a different way of learning and processing information, so it is important for them to develop their own studying habits and learning methods."

Interests: reading, hiking, and interior design

Damion L.
Math
University of Texas

Damion brings a penchant for connecting with students to the role of tutor. He holds a Master’s Degree in Accounting and uses his ability to prepare and explain complex subject matter to help students succeed.

"Knowledge is the greatest gift you can give to a person, and I try to be my best to do that every day."

Interests: sports, comics, and everything

Aazhu K.
English, ESL
Howard University / American University

Aazhu is an accomplished educator with years of experience teaching ESL and ESOL, as well as English and acting in the USA. With his Master’s in Theatre, Aazhu is known for bringing lots of energy and enthusiasm for his student-centered style of teaching.

"I am privileged when my students accomplish their goals. Their achievement is my joy."

Interests: music, film, and travel

Marc D.
English, ESL
New York University

As a TOEFL certified educator with a Master’s in Education, Marc brings years of classroom and online tutoring experience to his work. With over 6,000 completed sessions on the Live Learning Platform, Marc is known for his patience and his commitment to getting the most out of his students.

"In my experience, those students who put the most effort in and are seriously committed to achieving their learning goals, usually do."

Interests: reading, art, sports (NFL, NBA), and chess